School board proposes North Bay renovation

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees voted Monday night to eliminate all portable classrooms at North Bay Elementary School.

In addition, the board scheduled a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 29 in the superintendent's office in Bay Senior High School to discuss complete renovation of North Bay.

The board's unanimous action followed a report by Superintendent of Education J.D. McCullough that a window replacement project at North Bay would cost an estimated $88,152.

McCullough obtained the quotation by direction of the board last month after former North Bay Parent-Teacher Organization president Lana Noonan told trustees windows at the school could not be opened or closed securely. Noonan also cited several other North Bay problems at that meeting.

The superintendent stated, "I met with Architect Jules Lagarde, an associate of School Architect Fred Wagner, and we visited the North Bay campus."

"But the first thing I did was make a call to the State Educational Finance Commission in Jackson to check on the changing of windows, and replacing the roof, and floor tiles," McCullough said.

The superintendent reported he spoke with EFC Executive Secretary Dr. Frank Lovell.

"He seemed to think we should move ahead with changing the windows at the school," McCullough stated.

"The cost estimate by Lagarde is based on similar windows," he added. McCullough explained the $88,152 total was derived from a cost breakdown for 231 double-hung windows at $41,203; construction materials at $2,000; labor for removal of existing windows at $23,100; payroll tax at $6,699; contractors profit at $7,100; and architect's fees of $6,150.

Noonan asked McCullough, "Is that the same study you made in November, 1978? You reviewed plans then."

"The superintendent hesitated then replied, 'I'd have to check that.'"

Noonan also inquired, "Are we using the same study or are we paying for another report?"

McCullough replied, "We are referring to a study made a week ago. This is to replace all windows. The minutes reflect we did not pay for the original study."

Noonan also reported, "In May, 1979 Lagarde was here with a final study for North Bay."

The school patron received no reply.

The superintendent said he had not discussed the window replacement cost with Lovell, but added, "He felt the need was there and the possibility we would have the money to undertake the project."

"I recommend we proceed to see how far we can go," McCullough stated.

Trustee Walter Turcott explained, "The old window glass and frames are in good shape, but the mechanisms are out of order."

"What's going to become of the windows we take out," Turcott asked. McCullough replied, "I haven't discussed that at this time."

Turcott suggested, "I think we should have the old windows stored, even if we have to pay for storage, and then sell them."

Mock emergency slated this month

By ELLIS CUEVAS
There will be a practice of the Bay-Waveland-Hancock Emergency Operational Staff called between the dates of Sept. 13-28, according to Robert Boudin, Civil Defense director.

This was revealed at a recent meeting of all political and emergency operations leaders at Civil Defense Headquarters at the Valena C. Jones complex.

The nature of the exercise will be a train derailment in Bay St. Louis. It will include ruptured tank cars-dangerous chemicals involving mocked evacuations for protection of residents. Boudin places emphasis that this will be an exercise.

The derailment will involve only the emergency people, not the public.

Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson stated, "The emergency people will use flashing lights only, no sirens. The use of sirens will be for real emergencies and if one happens it will let us know it is a real thing."

All persons present at the final planning of the exercise were in agreement with Peterson.

Boudin said, "We will have road blocks set-up at railroad crossings, because if there were a real derailment in Bay St. Louis it would happen. The road blocks will be for the exercise emergency people only. The general public will not be stopped, they will be allowed to proceed with their normal travel."

This exercise will be similar to the one where there was a 'plane crash' at the Garfield-Ladner Memorial place.

Eve McDonald, Senior Citizens coordinator, said her group will provide 'victims' for the exercise.

John Rester, Mobile Medic director, said his units will respond to the scene of the 'derailment' and render emergency aid to the 20 'victims.'

Those needing treatment will be sent to Hancock General Hospital as in the previous exercise.

This exercise has had many hours of planning according to Celestine Dumestre, Civil Defense worker.

All emergency agencies will respond either to the wreck scene, hospital, shelter, traffic control or firefighting location as required by developments.

A lengthy discussion was held at the final meeting on the use of communications between the emergency personnel. It was stated that some people tie up the systems with unnecessary chatter.

The headquarters for the operations will be the CD headquarters at VCI. An additional group who will be used in this exercise will be Boy Scouts on roadblocks.

Dumestre allowed, "The Boy Scouts will be at railroad crossings to direct

Coast industrial growth climate excellent, Ingalls exec reports

By EDGAR PEREZ

PASCAGOULA—Some 300 to 400 Hancock County residents who work at the Ingalls Shipbuilding yard in Pascagoula apparently will not have to worry about layoffs in the foreseeable future with the company's diversification plans calling for a projected workforce of 16,000 to 18,000.

The company's current workforce of 11,500 generates a $200 million annual payroll, Jerry St. Pe, Ingalls vice president for public and industrial relations, reported this week.

St. Pe, in an address to the Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association Monday night at LaFont Inn here, said diversification planning got underway at Ingalls some 18 months ago.

"When we set out to find other things to do we came up with the manufacture of rail cars, and that project has created at least 1,000 jobs," the official said.

"Prior to that time our projections showed a 6,000-man low in our workforce for the Spring of 1981 and we knew we could not operate at that level, we would not be able to meet overhead," he said of the decision to diversify.

Ingalls spent $10 million in re-tooling for the rail car project, St. Pe noted. "We had not been in the offshore oil business for the past 20 years when we landed contracts to build 12 new drilling rigs," St. Pe continued.

The rig construction has added an additional 2,000 jobs, he noted, adding the company expects its current work force to level off at somewhere between 10,000 and 11,000 during the next 12 months.

In addition to the Hancock residents, some 8,000 Ingalls workers live in Jackson County; 1,500 in Harrison County, and some 1,300 in or near Mobile, Ala.

St. Pe noted while diversification is important to the company, "we're still basically a shipyard and we are continuing to pursue U. S. Navy business."

He said Ingalls hopes to soon land contracts to build the first four of the Navy's latest cruisers, the CG-47's.

In another projection, St. Pe explained the company is also pursuing contracts on the manufacture of $300 million barge-mounted petroleum products processing plants which will convert natural gas to methanol.

"Those contracts will bring our workforce up to somewhere between 16,000 and 18,000," he stated.

"We are extremely confident about the future," he continued, adding, "Our company is earning money, and that's important if we expect to stay in business."

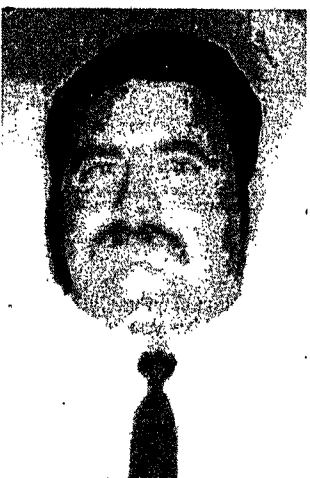

St. Pe said "the climate is absolutely excellent for industrial growth on the Gulf Coast."

Also at the association's regular semi-monthly meeting Monday, officers for 1980-1981 were installed.

They are Lloyd Roberts, mayor of Moss Point, president; R. C. Randall, Gulfport public works commissioner, first vice president; Barbara Rappold, Waveland alderman and city clerk, second vice president; and Marie Rogers, Pass Christian alderman-at-large and mayor pro-tem, secretary-treasurer.

Jerry Ladner enters school board race

Gerald (Jerry) Ladner, 33, of Clermont Harbor, has announced his candidacy for the Hancock County School Board, District One.

Ladner is a self-employed contractor and a lifelong resident of Hancock County.

He is a graduate of Bay High School and attended Pearl River Junior College.

He is married to the former Kathleen Klein. They have one daughter, Kelli Marie.

"Let's give our children a fair chance for a better education. With your vote and support we can do this together," the candidate said.

Bay teachers eligible for insurance subsidy

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Teachers of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District are now eligible for insurance financial assistance.

The District's Board of Trustees Monday night unanimously authorized paying $12.50 per month ($150 per year) for each teacher participating in the program.

However, teachers must sign up for either Blue Cross-Blue Shield hospitalization insurance or American Fidelity salary protection and group life insurance to receive the district subsidy.

Board President Virginia Gex said Wednesday the insurance program would be retroactive to Sept. 1.

Superintendent of Education J.D. McCullough reported, "Last month the insurance committee didn't commit itself to designating two insurance companies that teachers and administrators could accept."

"In order to get reduced premiums the school board must select and designate these two companies," the superintendent explained.

The insurance committee met again and Committee Chairman Ken Harber, a Bay Senior High School teacher, said the committee recommended an optional program offering $12.50 toward hospitalization insurance or salary protection and group life insurance," McCullough said.

"To receive reduced rates for certified and non-certified personnel the school board must endorse the program," the superintendent stated.

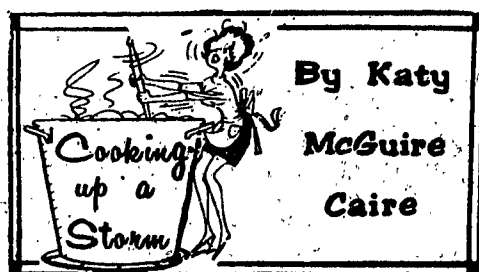

The board then adopted a resolution endorsing the teacher insurance proposal.

Concerning proposed liability insurance for the district's teachers, the board asked the insurance committee to look into the feasibility and a cost figure for the insurance.

McCullough reported, "The insurance committee also asks the board to pass a motion that the school board obtain a professional liability policy for certified a non-certified personnel at the district's expense."

Trustee James Ginn initially offered a motion to accept the committee's request, but his motion died for lack of a second.

Then Ginn offered the motion calling for a cost quotation which passed unanimously.

A tasty morsel of Southern cookery is the "Hush Puppy" or, in French, "Tais-toi-chien" - a delicious Southern fried cornbread tidbit that is said to have originated during fishing and hunting expeditions along Southern shores and in the marshlands.

The outdoorsmen, at the close of the day, so the tale goes, were cooking their cornmeal, blanketed catch over the campfire when the hounds set up a howl for their fair share.

Seeking to quiet the dogs till the meal was over, so legend says, the chef formed the leftover corn meal into balls, which he dipped into the hot fat and tossed to the canines with the admonition, "Hush Puppy."

Thus a legend and a tasty recipe came into being.

The Hush Puppy soon found its way to Southern plantations and farms throughout Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, and Louisiana, eventually appearing in bite size on the appetizer tray, often rolled in spicy cheese or dipped in a tangy sauce.

Here is an authentic Hush Puppy recipe from South Georgia, given to me some years ago by Charlie Pearson, born and reared way down there, now a Pass resident.

PEARSON'S PUPPIES

2 cups sifted corn meal
1/2 cup flour
1 egg
1 cup diced onions
1/2 tsp. soda
3 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. salt

Buttermilk and beer, half and half

Secret of this recipe is the buttermilk-beer batter, so light and fluffy. Mix the dry ingredients, stir in the beaten egg, add onions to the batter. Mix with the buttermilk and beer until thick, using your judgment as to amounts.

And, this is most important, says Charlie - Drink the remaining beer so the batter won't be too thin. Drop the mixture a tablespoon at a time (or shape into balls) into the deep fat in which the fish has been cooked, and drain well.

Incidentally, you only need to fry the Hush Puppies three or four minutes in the hot fat till well browned. Turn as they rise to the surface, remove with a slotted spoon and drain. (Makes about two dozen).

A word to the distaff side today:

What's your specialty for staying off the hunger pangs while the Outdoor Chef is busy at the grill, ladling his own special sauce over the ribs, chicken, hamburgers or what have you, or brushing the meat or poultry with his special basting brush (the Head Honcho Chef hereabouts uses a special little mop) while the aroma and expectations make the rest of us hungrier by the minute?

Well - since you'll probably be stuck with the clean-up process, as despite paper plates and such, there's always k.p. ahead, somehow - you certainly don't want to spend the prior hours a-cooking up appetizers, so why don't you serve a cheese log or ball or something of the sort?

You can even make 'em ahead of time, days even, so there's no last-minute scurrying around on your part - except, of course, fetching and carrying for the Chef of the Hour.

Just about my favorite cheese log is:

PLANTATION CHEESE LOG

An old, old recipe from old plantation days.

1 cup pecans
2 cloves garlic
6 to 8 ounces cream cheese, softened
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
4 or 5 drops hot pepper sauce, depending upon how "hot" you like it.

Chop pecans and garlic (or put through medium blade of food chopper or sub). Blend the remaining ingredients, except for the chili powder, together, and mix in the ground nuts-garlic.

Shape into a roll about an inch and a half in diameter. Spread the chili powder over a sheet of waxed paper, then roll the log in the powder so as to coat it evenly. Wrap tightly in waxed paper or foil, and chill for a few hours or more.

If necessary, let the log stand at room temperature to soften slightly. Surround with crisp crackers (I prefer homemade graham rounds). This will give you 20 or so slices, so you usually have to make two or more, at least at our house.

One of the easiest cheese logs ever, and one that usually has everyone asking how many cheeses you combined to get that unusual flavor, is nothing more than cream cheese softened, mixed with enough mayonnaise, just a little, to make it pliable, with Heinz 57 Sauce added until the whole business tastes right to you. Then roll and cover and chill as usual. (This, incidentally is a good recipe for a wine-and-cheese-tasting party, as the flavor isn't too pronounced to conflict with the wines.

Bay-Waveland overeaters slate first birthday event

The Bay-Waveland Overeaters Anonymous Organization will celebrate its first birthday Wednesday on Sept. 24, at Christ Episcopal Church Hall located at 912 AS Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis from 7 to 9 p.m.

Speakers will include 'Linda' of New Orleans who has been in overeaters since September 1977 and has maintained a weight loss of 122 pounds. She will speak on the 'Acceptance of the Things You Cannot Change in Life.'

'Teresa' of Gulfport will conclude the program with 'The Wisdom to Know the Difference Between the Things We Can Change and Those We Cannot.' She has been an outstanding supporter to the Bay-Waveland group. Teresa has been in overeaters since November 1978 and has maintained a weight loss of 90 pounds.

Any old or new member wishing to join the celebration is invited. The only requirement for membership is a desire to stop eating compulsively. A group spokesman explained, "We charge no dues; we are self-supporting through our own contributions. We hope you will join us."

USM Gulf Park to offer children's reading program

The University of Southern Mississippi Reading Center at Gulf Park in Long Beach will resume its schedule of instruction and evaluation next week.

Parents are urged to enroll children with reading difficulties as soon as possible. Currently there is room for 20 in the program which serves children ages two - 18.

"Our primary success comes from the one-to-one instruction," said Dr. Nancy Maszkal, director of the center.

"This individual attention gives the child the opportunity to feel close to the person they are working with," she explained.

The center tests and evaluates children with reading problems and provides test scores, evaluation results and resulting recommendations to parents.

Mississippi to host meet

Secretaries of State 1982 convention slated in Biloxi

Secretary of State Edwin Lloyd Pittman announced recently that Mississippi will host the 1982 Annual Convention of the National Association of Secretaries of State.

A Mississippi spokesman said, it is anticipated that the convention will be held at the Broadwater Beach Convention Center in Biloxi in November 1982.

Robert M. Aronson Jr., an assistant secretary of state, represented Mississippi last month at the 1980 Convention in Atlantic City, N.J., and extended to the Site Selection Committee Pittman's invitation to bring the 1982 meeting to Mississippi.

Pittman said, "Hosting the annual convention is an honor sought by many National Association members. Mississippi's invitation was accepted over the invitations extended by Kentucky and Pennsylvania."

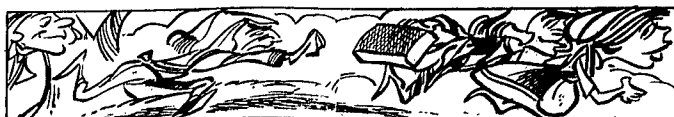

"Upon the recommendation of the Site Selection Committee the full body of convention delegates voted to meet in Mississippi in 1982," he reported.

We feel it's really nice the Senior Citizens now have a place where they can sell their many items made by them.

The new Craft Shop on US-90, Waveland, has a lot of items which make wonderful gifts for just about any occasion. You would be surprised at the fine talents our senior citizens display.

We think special mention should be made in complimenting the Vo-Tek Center in Hancock for assistance in construction and also the officials of Waveland for footing the materials bills.

We know a lot of others lent a hand and we want to thank them for their time and efforts.

We hope the Craft Shop will be one of the most successful operations in the Senior Citizen programs.

Friday night will be action night for our local football teams. Bay High and Hancock North Central will be away from home while St. Stanislaus will be making their debut at home for the 1980 season.

The Tigers will journey to East Central and the Hawks will go against a strong Forrest County.

The Rock-A-Chaws will be making their debut before the home crowd against Pearl River Central.

We hope the fans will get and give our local teams full support. We know the weather was bad last week and hope it is better Friday.

One day during the next two weeks, the Civil Defense of Hancock County will conduct an exercise.

Now it is important to realize this will be an exercise and that all emergency vehicles will be using flashing lights only, no sirens.

It is important to have exercises like the one planned because it gives emergency personnel an opportunity to study their efforts and make improvements and be ready in case of something real.

There is a planned 'train derailment' in Bay St. Louis and it will involve all Civil Defense, National Guard, sheriff, police, fire, Mobile Medic, Hancock General and other agencies, even Boy Scouts.

Many of the old timers of the area remember Hancock County's Sylvester Moran who worked for many years at the courthouse.

On August 21, he celebrated his 87th birthday in Janesville, Minn. while visiting his daughter, Guida, for several months.

We featured Mr. Moran several years ago with his famous fiddle which the newspaper in Janesville also shows.

He had lived in the NSTL area and moved to rural Gulfport in 1962, when the government purchased his property for the test site.

We are glad to hear that our old friend is doing fine and still fiddling around with his fiddle.

The article in the Minnesota newspaper tells about life in rural Hancock County and how the Moran family moved to Bay St. Louis. He attended St. Stanislaus.

Mr. Moran was a special guest in Washington in 1974 where he played his fiddle at the White House.

News from the governor's office

Governor William Winter announced Wednesday the creation of a task force to recommend solutions to the growing problems with local jails in the state.

Winter, expressing concern for problems with maintaining local detention facilities, said the task force will be charged with finding solutions to both immediate and long-range problems.

Many local jails face problems with overcrowding, high operating costs, and inadequate health care. Limited or non-existent recreational opportunities and facilities also plague the system. Winter called this situation "a costly problem of major and immediate concern to our state."

"This is a problem we must face head on," Winter said in announcing creation of the task force. The governor emphasized that the job of the task force is not to identify problems, as done in previous studies, but to find realistic solutions to relieving the problems.

"Part of the solution to our many problems is obviously to alleviate some overcrowding on the local level by moving some state prisoners being housed in county jails to the state penitentiary at Parchman," Winter said, adding that he expects that to be done when new facilities at Parchman are completed.

Winter said additional space at the state penitentiary will be available through implementation of two of his proposed programs. One of those programs will help about 400 state prison inmates find jobs that will help them win early release after careful and thorough screening. The other program will make $457,000 in federal funds available to county and city governments for renovation of local jails.

Members of the task force created by Winter will represent areas of law enforcement at city and county levels, prisoners' defense, business, religion, the judiciary, and state lawmaking bodies.

Winter said the task force will be charged with finding solutions to both immediate and long-range problems.

Concerned citizen questions

school board's financial priorities

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,

With the heat this year at a higher level than normal I would like to express my concern for the students at Hancock North Central.

I do not feel that any student can reach their potential level of development when overheated.

It would not be of concern to me if there was nothing that could be done about this situation.

However, the PTA in 1978 wanted to aircondition the classrooms, doing as many that year as the available funds would allow, and continuing the following years until the elementary school was completely airconditioned.

The PTA was not allowed to do this because of the rising cost of electricity. Where do we set our priorities?

The school board just paid $7.51 an hour in the amount of $9,064 to the Gulf Coast Security Systems Inc. to provide guards at the tornado-damaged area at Gulfview.

However, the school district could have saved approximately $4,840 by allowing Ronnie Peterson's auxiliary deputies to do the job at $3.50 an hour.

As concerned citizens, taxpayers had better get down to the school board meetings and become aware of where our priorities are set and where our money is being spent.

Senior Citizen cites feelings

on need of hospital here

Dear Mr. Editor,

Please print this letter in the Echo, concerning our hospital.

I heard some news. Where they are going to make a nursing home for aged. We need our hospital, not any more nursing homes.

Our Senior Citizens need hospital also, lots of other people from all over Hancock County.

If a person is struck down with a bad heart attack, by the time the ambulance gets to Gulfport and loses all that precious time, they could die where they could die, where they could be saved here in our hospital.

I remember when we had a small hospital, King Daughters where my grandson was operated on.

Also, my husband Forrest A. Travira had a bad heart attack he was in a coma at Kings Daughter 4 days. But God spared his life 3 years more.

Thus people of Hancock County need our hospital get some more doctors; fix our hospital where all of us will be proud to say we are from Hancock County.

Let's all get together and pray to our Lord.

I believe in prayers, because I have had many answers.

County should provide animal confinement when human is bitten

Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis
To The Editor:

After reading in the Echo about the recent dog bite victim, I felt I had to write about my experience in the same situation.

About a year and a half ago my seven year-old daughter was bitten by a dog in Hancock County.

I had to take her into the emergency room for treatment.

I was told by the hospital that the sheriff's department would have to be notified by the hospital or by me so confinement and observation could be implemented.

The dog was picked up by someone from the County.

I was relieved because I thought the dog would be watched for rabies and cared for.

About a day before the confinement period was up, I called the sheriff's office to check up on the dog.

They didn't know anything but put me in touch with the dog catcher.

To my horror he told me the dog had escaped 3 or 4 days after he was picked up and could not be found.

I was never notified about the escape so I could take proper precautions with my daughter. What if the dog did have rabies??

It is not the responsibility of the Humane Society or animal shelter to finance a place for this type of problem.

Our tax money is collected for community services of this nature. Who controls our tax money? The Board of Supervisors!!!

Arbitrary enforcement of loitering law draws criticism

Sea Coast Echo
To The Editor and all citizens of Bay St. Louis:

There is an ordinance in effect in our city which states there shall be no gathering of any persons outside of any public places.

This should mean that no persons shall gather in front of churches, stores of business, schools, the City Hall, the County Courthouse, etc.

However, the enforcement has been directed to another area, one of which concerns the lounges along our beach front road and one certain amusement game hall along the same road.

The People's Business

A DIFFERENT LOOK

Critics of the American enterprise system somehow fail to realize that Americans enjoy the highest standard of living in the world, and that as Americans we have the freedom to choose jobs, own property, and own our own businesses — freedoms other countries do not have.

They also fail to realize that we spend half our incomes on "wants" rather than "needs" — a situation directly attributable to our free enterprise system.

A simple comparison of the approximate work time required for average manufacturing employees to buy certain goods in retail stores in Washington, DC, London, and in Moscow brings the benefits of the free enterprise system into sharp focus.

A color TV set would take 86 hours of work in Washington, 177 hours in London, and 713 hours in Moscow. An automobile, which takes 4.1 months of work time to purchase in Washington, would require 8.5 months in London, and 35 months in Moscow.

Further comparisons are:

—A weekly food basket for four: Washington, 12.5 hours; London, 21.4 hours; and Moscow, 42.3 hours.

—A man's business suit: Washington, 20 hours; London, 25 hours; and Moscow, 68 hours.

I, along with others, have seen on two occasions where city policemen have told people in front of our beach front lounges to either go inside or go to their transportation and leave.

Yet, I have seen policemen pass a church on Sunday where people were gathered outside and the officers proceeded on their way.

This also applies to food stores, businesses, the City Hall, etc., but at the beach front lounges the law is enforced.

Louisiana Association of Railroad Passengers seeks Mississippi help

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

To our many friends on the Gulf Coast:

We of the Louisiana Association of Railroad Passengers are striving to provide rail passenger service from Union Passenger Terminal in New Orleans, La. to the Gulfport, Biloxi area.

Our organization would actually desire rail passenger service all the way to Jacksonville, Fla.

This lack of passenger service is known in the Southeast as the Missing Link.

The train we are trying to restore to service is known as The Gulf Wind.

The Louisiana Legislature passed a Bill (SB-710) in the 1980 Session. This Bill and a companion Bill passed by the Mississippi Legislature is known as the Louisiana-Mississippi Compact.

This Compact, when fully implemented, will provide needed rail passenger service to our two states. The Bill also states that any state bordering on the two member states can join the Compact.

To the many people interested in restoring rail passenger service to the Gulf Coast, you have a chance to have your voice heard. We would suggest that you write your state representatives, state senators and the governor.

The time it takes to write a letter and the expense of a stamp and envelope, could pay dividends toward our goals. The more communications delivered to your political leaders, the quicker action will be taken. To obtain the addresses of your representatives, senators and governor, contact your local newspaper or The League of Women Voters in your area.

With the help of the people residing on the Gulf Coast of Mississippi, let us hope that rail passenger service will arrive as soon as possible.

Sincerely,
John H. Sita

Libraries' new holdings reported

COMPILED BY
SHERRY SCHWABACHER

If the long, hot summer has left you limp, and you don't know what to do with yourself after the endless round of activities in these past few months, come to the library. We have just the right book for you. Some of the new books available from any of the branches of the Hancock County Library System are:

RAGE OF ANGELS - by Sidney Sheldon. The story of an idealistic young woman lawyer who triumphs over two vengeful men, told in that Sheldon-style made so popular by BLOODLINE and THE OTHER SIDE OF MIDNIGHT.

THE BOURNE IDENTITY - by Robert Ludlum (Author of THE MATARESE CIRCLE). The melodramatic adventures of an amnesiac trying to find out who he really is. A real thriller!

PRINCESS DAISY - by Judith Krantz. One of the most heavily publicized novels of the summer, this tells of the fight for survival in the world of glitter, from the Czars of St. Petersburg to Manhattan's SoHo.

BELLEFEUR - by Joyce Carol Oates. A multi-generational saga of a weird, sometimes immensely rich family and its retainers, who dwell in an Adirondack castle and its environs: a daring tour de force of imagination and intellect.

CONSENTING ADULTS: OR THE DUCHESS WILL BE FURIOUS - by Peter De Vries. A master of word play in top form with the picaresque adventures of Ted Peachum, raunchy product of a Mid-western furniture-moving family, who aspires both to overcome nihilistic despair and to rise above his station.

CRAIG CLAIBORNE'S DIET GOURMET COOK BOOK - by Craig Claiborne with Pierre Franey. Recipes for eating well, losing weight and maintaining good health.

LITTLE GLORIA - HAPPY AT LAST - by Barbara Goldsmith. The story of poor little rich girl Gloria Vanderbilt, now better known for her line of blue jeans than for her blue-blooded genes, and the bitter custody fight she endured as a young as her family struggled for control of Little Gloria . . . and her fortune.

JIM FIXX'S SECOND BOOK OF RUNNING - by James F. Fixx. More advice for both beginners and marathoners.

LYNDON - by Merle Miller. The career of Lyndon Johnson, whose talents as Legislative genius, manipulator of men and performer were usually devoted to liberal and humane causes, is re-created from taped reminiscences by himself and others. A coherent, sensitive

by Gay Talese. How American sexuality has changed in our time, from a man who has done extensive personal research in the subject.

UNO enrollment exceeds 15,000

The University of New Orleans broke the 15,000 mark and reached the highest enrollment in its 22-year history this month with 15,306 students registered for the 1980 fall semester.

"This total represents a three percent increase over the 1979 fall enrollment," W. Richard Burleson, UNO director of institutional research, said.

UNO's School of Engineering, with a total enrollment of 737 students, had the highest percentage of increase of 12 percent, followed closely by the Graduate School, with 2,251 students representing an 11 percent increase.

Other areas with increased enrollment include the Junior Division, up 31 students; College of Sciences, up 16; and General Studies, up 14.

"The most spectacular increase, however, came in the area of special student classification within UNO's Junior Division, an area in which 347 more students enrolled this year," Burleson reported.

"The special student classification, begun last spring, permits adult students to enroll and take up to 30 hours of credit courses toward a degree without having to produce transcripts or take entrance examinations normally required. Many of the special students are enrolled in UNO's Off-Campus Centers program," the UNO director explained.

Academic areas showing decreased enrollment this fall include the College of Business Administration, down 195 students; the Nursing Cooperative (within Junior Division), down 105; and Aero Space exchange, down 53.

The number of newly entering freshmen is 2,633 this fall as compared to 2,695 in 1979, a decrease of 62 students, Burleson said.

Regular registration was conducted August 20-22, with late registration running through August 29.

SSC seniors observe 1981 ring ceremony

Seniors representing the 127th graduating class of St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis received their senior rings Thursday, Sept. 4.

This year's senior class numbers 93 students. The ring ceremony was held in the St. Stanislaus Chapel with faculty members and parents of the seniors as guests.

Brother Bennet, senior class moderator, welcomed the seniors and their guests.

Brother Albert Guarino, the chaplain at St. Stanislaus, blessed the rings prior to distribution.

Brother Paul Mulligan, principal, announced the members of the senior class as they received their rings from Brother Mark Thornton, president.

Brother Paul Mulligan then gave a short address in which he spoke of the significance of wearing the senior ring as a symbol and the importance of maintaining the rich tradition of St. Stanislaus.

Following the ceremony a reception for the seniors and their guests was held in the student union.

RENTING OUT
Your home becomes a business if you rent it out either for a year or some seasonal period, such as the summer. The costs of running the property are subtracted from the rent to determine the net income from the operation - just as would be done in any other business. Among the expenses that can be charged off are interest on the mortgage, maintenance and repairs, agent's fees, utilities if you pay them, insurance premiums, annual depreciation, and improvements.

YOUR HOME
Depreciation claimed must be subtracted from the cost of the house. You can't defer the profit from the sale by buying another house. However, you can charge off a loss on the sale against your income for the year.

Tax-wise, renting out your home is a whole new ball game. So as not to pass up any moneysaving deductions, I suggest you put your return in the hands of a good accountant.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at: PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-2224. We're here to help!

Thigpen recounts lynching at McNeill

By GRADY THIGPEN
Mr. H.V. Henley of Eureka, California, native of Pearl River County, sent me the following story:
"Just a little north of Clifton, now known as McNeill, there was a gravel pit on the west side of the railroad, with a switch running to it from the main line of the railroad. I do not know the date or time it was used, for when I saw the place the first time, about 1905, the rails had been moved away and it appeared that gravel from this pit had not been used in a long time.
"During the time this switch was used for hauling gravel it seems that a man named Parker had a grudge against the railroad and had been known to say that if he did not get satisfaction he was going to wreck the train. Stories varied as to why he had made such a statement. One version was that the railroad had killed a pig belonging to him and would not pay for the pig. Another was that he worked for the railroad and had been discharged.

"Not long after Parker had made his threat to wreck a train a log was found chained across the rails near the old gravel pit near which Parker lived. The engineer on the train coming south on the long straightaway there saw the log on the track far enough away that he was able to stop the train before it got to the log. The train crew removed the log from the track and went on to their destination.
"The gravel train crew and the regular train crews were all running regularly on trains through that area. If a train had been wrecked many workers on the train would have been killed. If a passenger train had been wrecked it might have meant the death of many passengers.

"All the men working for the railroad took it as an effort on the part of Parker to murder them. Feeling ran high against the guilty party. Since no one else had been heard to make any remark about wrecking a train the railroad men assumed that Parker was the man who had, as they took it, tried to murder them.
"An engine with a caboose attached brought to the scene of the attempted wreck a good sized group of men bent on finding the man guilty of tying the log to the railroad track and wreaking vengeance on him. They joined there by some of the men working on the gravel train.

"The man Parker lived nearby. The men went to his house, captured him and brought him with his little son to the old gravel pit.
"They tried to make Parker confess that he was the man who tried to wreck the train. He denied it. A man present told Parker of hearing him say that he was going to wreck a train if the railroad did not give him satisfaction. Parker strongly denied that he had tied the log on the track.
"The group of men thought they knew he was guilty. There was evidence pointing to Parker but no evidence pointing to anyone else. There was no doubt in the minds of the men but they wanted him to admit his guilt. They tortured him in various ways but Parker still protested his innocence. They twisted his arm until it was almost, if not broken, they burnt him with a hot poker and other ways but he still protested he was innocent.

"When they saw that Parker would rather die than admit committing the crime, they came up with a diabolical way to make him confess.
"There was a wood cook stove in the caboose for use of the train crew in cooking their meals. A fire was built in this stove. When the stove became red hot Parker was told that unless he confessed the little boy would be fried on the stove. By now Parker was almost dead from the tortures he had undergone. Because of their merciless torture of him he believed them when they told him they would fry his little son. To save the boy, Parker told them he was the man who put the log on the railroad.
"They then took Parker up on top of the bank of the gravel pit and tied him to a pine tree. Many bullets were fired into his body. Many of these bullets went through his body and lodged in the tree. The man who told me this story, and who is now living, said, 'When I last saw the tree it was dying. A hunter, whom I knew, hacked the bullets out of the tree and molded them to fit his muzzle loading rifle.' (lead for bullets was high priced and scarce back then and hunters always salvaged what bullets they could to use again).
"The officials of the railroad did not condone the lynching of Parker. It was said that several employees of the railroad were fired as a result. Also it was told, whether true or not, that after the boy became old enough the railroad company gave him a lifetime job.
"A short while after the lynching of Parker, an old negro, who had also had a grudge against the railroad, confessed on his deathbed that it was he who had placed the log on the track. He expressed great fear of dying with this on his conscience and confessed with the hope of absolution for his crime in causing the death of an innocent man. This is the end of Mr. Henley's letter to me.
Because she had lived in the immediate vicinity of the scene of this story all her life, I went up to the home of Mrs. Lige Coleman, then 90 years old and asked her what she knew about this lynching. This grand old lady, then a semi-invalid, and living with her son on the old place she went to with her husband about 90 years ago, told of hearing the shots that killed Parker. Her mother lived nearby. It is about a quarter of a mile from her childhood home to the place where Parker was killed. She said that they heard many guns shooting, something they had never heard before. It sounded like a battle. She remembers that her mother became greatly excited at something so unusual in that sparsely settled area. The public road passed near their home. Soon men came by and were questioned. Mrs. Coleman said they were told that the man had been shot many times and afterwards, fat pine was stacked around his body which was tied to a tree and the body buried. The remains were then placed in a hastily dug grave at the scene of the lynching.

Mrs. Coleman did not know of the confession of the old negro as was written by Mr. Henley or she had forgotten it but the shooting and the confusion in the neighborhood were well remembered by her. She says that at the point where the wreck was attempted which is just opposite the place where Parker lost his life, the railroad track sinks periodically and has to be shored up. Her son bore her out, saying that many times the railroad company has had to send a crew in there and reinforce the bed of the railroad at that point. He said that it would hold up for a time and then this work would have to be repeated. This is particularly strange since no such repair job has to be done on any other point on the track in that general area.
There was less law and order back in those days. For one thing, the sheriff of the county lived in Bay St. Louis and it was a long four day trip down there and back on a horse. Going to court from McNeill to Bay St. Louis was such a long tedious job that no one wanted to go. For people who lived that far back from the seat of justice court meant very little. These self-dependent hardy people took care of their own problems. It was too impractical and too far away to bother about going to the county seat, so in most things they settled their own problems in the old pioneer

'Young women' invited to state teen pageant

Young women between the ages of 13-18 are invited to participate in the 10th annual Miss Mississippi National Teen-Ager Pageant coming up this spring at Mississippi University for Women in Columbus.
Teens interested in participating in the pageant should contact Mrs. Billie McLarty, 121 Boxwood Drive, Franklin, Tenn. 37064 or telephone (615) 373-8456.
The pageant will be held at the university March 21.
A pageant spokesman said, "Contestants are judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise, personality and appearance. There is no talent or swimsuit competition."

The pageant hosted by 'The W' is the official state preliminary to the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant, which will be held in Ft. Myers, Fla., in August 1981.
The Mississippi winner will compete against representatives of the 49 other states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.
The Mississippi delegate to the National Pageant will receive a $1,000 U.S. Savings Bond, an all-expense-paid trip to the national finals, a modeling course scholarship from Barbizon and other prizes. The state pageant will also award scholarships in essay competition for outstanding citizenship and to 'Miss Congeniality'.

More than $400,000 in scholarships was awarded to 1980 state pageant winners. Sharon McLarty of Amory, 1973 Miss National Teen-Ager and a graduate of the University, was television hostess for the nationally syndicated National Teen-Ager Pageant this year.

Crime against business reviewed in bibliography

Crime against retail businesses has reached staggering proportions, according to law enforcement statistics.

Robbery, embezzlement, bad checks, theft, arson and employee theft cost America's businesses enormous amounts of money each year.

To aid the businessman in combatting crime, the Mississippi Library Commission has compiled a list of books and government publications entitled 'Crime Prevention for the Businessman: A Selected Bibliography'.
A copy of the list is on file at all three libraries of the Hancock County Library System as well as the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

All of the titles are available through the library system. For more information or to obtain a copy of the list, visit or call the Hancock County Library System's headquarters in Bay St. Louis, 467-5282; Kiln Library, 255-1724; or Waveland Library, 467-9240.

Patrol chief advises watching bus signals

With the new school year getting underway throughout Mississippi, nearly 365,000 children are being transported daily in chrome-yellow buses on streets and highways across the state.

Because of a law governing the transporting of school children, schoolbuses will be traveling on city streets in addition to county roads and highways.

Donald Butler, Chief of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, said when a school bus displays a stop signal for loading and unloading children, Mississippi law requires all motorists traveling in the same direction, as well as those traveling in the opposite direction, to stop.

A spokesman at the State Department of Education, said the majority of student injuries and fatalities occur while buses are loading and unloading children at residences.

"Stopping for a school bus may cause drivers to lose a little time since they are usually traveling during the peak hours each morning, but the loss of time cannot even be measured when it relates to driving a 4,000 pound automobile into a group of innocent children," Butler said.

"Mississippi's school buses have signal lights both front and rear to warn other drivers. Yellow flashing lights indicate slowing down and red flashing lights, with the stop arm extended from the bus, is the signal for other vehicles to stop while the children load or unload," Butler reported.

The chief said school buses are required to stop at railroad crossings and motorists should use caution when following a bus approaching crossings.

The 5,600 bus drivers and substitute drivers, who travel approximately 211,000 miles per day, have been professionally trained and are certified by the State Department of Education.

Meeting set for discussion of Bay elementary sports

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A meeting date to discuss discontinuing elementary sports to help fulfill Southern Association of Colleges and Schools accreditation requirements has been set by the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees.

The board agreed to meet with administrators and parents 7:30 p.m. Sept. 29 in the Bay Senior High School library.

Thomas Raphael of the Bay-Waveland Committee for Better Education had asked to address the board Monday night regarding accreditation by the association, but was informed in a letter from Superintendent of Education J.D. McCullough that he did not follow proper procedures gain a spot on the agenda.

The committee representative confirmed he did not follow proper procedures, but he noted it was the first time the agenda procedures had been enforced on him personally.

In the settlement of a lawsuit against the local school board several months ago, a federal district court set out procedures for school patrons to be included on board meeting agendas.

Raphael asked the board last month to take steps to meet Southern Association accreditation requirements.

At the regular meeting Monday night, Trustee James Ginn stated, "I thought I made a motion at the last meeting for parents, teachers and administrators to meet regarding athletics in the grammar schools."

"I swore I made the motion. If I recall it had to do with a report regarding Southern Association accreditation," Ginn reported.

"One of the things concerning this was to change from organized sports to an intramural program. I thought I made a motion to look into accreditation," Ginn asked.

Trustee Walter Turcott replied, "I don't remember, but I think you may have just made a statement or offered a recommendation."

Ginn then asked, "Well what about the Educational Needs Assessment Committee meeting? Has a date been set for this committee to meet?"

A dead silence filled the room. McCullough then replied, "I have notified everyone concerned by letter to respond to their appointment. Some have responded and some have not."

"I recall us discussing the assessment committee, but I don't think a motion was passed. The meeting tape recording will reflect this," the superintendent explained.

Ginn stated, "I make a motion that the superintendent set a date and notify the public by the newspaper, with purpose of that meeting to get feelings on organized sports in the grammar schools."

Board President Virginia Gex suggested, "What would be a good night for the meeting?"

The board then agreed to a late September meeting date.

Later in the meeting the board set an assessment committee meeting for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 14 in the senior high library.

A written statement Raphael had planned to read to the board "thanked" Maurice Singleton, who was president pro tem at a board meeting last month, "for creating the cordial atmosphere evident at the last board meeting." The spontaneous responses of all principals involved depicted a move toward openness which is necessary for the community and board to work together for quality education," Raphael adds.

The school patron again asks the board to, "...abolish inter-school competitive sports programs which are of a varsity pattern in grades one through six."

Raphael says a lack of social promotion provisions in the district discourages younger children from participating due to inordinate age differences.

"There tends to be vast difference in physical strength, growth and development..." among the elementary pupils.

"School itself seems to turn off many of our students," the school patron states.

"The present school environment does not turn on, encourage or motivate students. We feel that the fault does not lie with the system, but rather, it is found in the system," Raphael reports.

"Fear and harassment must be replaced with encouragement and teamwork. Prejudice and unequal opportunity must be replaced with the democratic way. Harassment must be replaced with leadership. Parental lockout must be replaced with parental involvement," Raphael explains.

"...we again recommend that the present elementary sports program be abolished and replaced with an effective physical education program for all students," the school patron states. Raphael said after the Monday night meeting, school board Policy 18 (regarding formal board recognition of recommendations or grievances from patrons) was being properly enforced, but added, "I hope this policy will be applied uniformly to all those wishing to address the board of trustees."

KIND COMPANION—The Bay-Waveland Humane Society is looking for a good home with a fenced yard for this 10-month-old female Welsh Corgi named Suxie Ann. A society spokesman said Suxie Ann has all necessary shots, and is spayed, housebroken, very affectionate, and is offered free. For more information about this petite pup call 467-6198 or 467-9548. Weather Outlook

SEPTEMBER

Mississippians can expect the warm dry weather of August to continue in September, according to the Mississippi Weather Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

The monthly outlook calls for above normal temperatures and below median precipitation for the entire state, say agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts.

Normal high temperatures during the month drop from near 90 to the lower 80s and normal lows from the upper 60s to the upper 50s. Normal rainfall ranges about three inches in the northern half of the state to near seven inches in the south.

The continued warm dry weather will aid in the harvesting of rice, cotton and soybeans. Dew will become a greater harvesting factor later in the month as it becomes heavier and lasts longer into the mornings. Extra morning moisture will be compensated for by a decrease in afternoon showers toward the end of September.

Drought will continue to be a problem, say the weather specialists. Rain now will not help cotton or early planted soybeans. Mid-season and late soybeans will suffer further damage in the prolonged dry spell.

Summer pastures have been hard hit by the drought. Light, scattered rains will do little to relieve the situation. Dry conditions will also interfere with fall pasture planting. Some pastures in the southern part of the state are in fairly good shape because of timely showers. The specialists predict a hay shortage this winter.

The importance of spraying will decline as insects move out of the mature fields. Dry weather and calm morning conditions will benefit necessary spraying.

Although a few cases of heat stress may occur, poultry should progress well as temperatures become more optimal.

GOING OVER DETAILS—Robert Boudin, right, Bay-Waveland-Hancock Civil-Defense director addresses the local emergency operations personnel for the annual simulated exercise to be held one day during the period of Sept. 12-28. The exercise will involve a "train derailment" on Central Avenue in the vicinity of Alcan Cable Company. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

Mississippi Weather & Crop Report

WEATHER SUMMARY (National Weather Service): Above normal temperatures were the rule over the Magnolia State during the week, with most locations two to three degrees warmer than usual. Rainfall was spotty, with some reporting stations getting rain several times during the period while others remained dry.

The hottest temperature was 101 degrees at both Tupelo and Vicksburg, while the coolest reading was 61 at Tupelo. The greatest 24-hour rainfall amount was 3.10 inches at Holly Springs.

CROP SUMMARY: Insect pressure on beans increased during the week. Short soil moisture slowed the filling of many pods. Cotton is developing prematurely, with small bolls opening ahead of schedule.

Soil moisture was generally very short to short across the state. There were 5.9 days suitable for fieldwork compared to 6.1 days last week and 5.2 days last year.

Cotton continued to develop rapidly with 78 percent of the acreage with open bolls, well ahead of last year's 70 percent and the 37 percent average. The crop was in fair to poor condition, with a few fields already harvested.

Soybeans were in poor to fair condition with 90 percent of the acreage podding compared to 96 percent last year and 92 percent average. Twenty-seven percent of the acreage was turning compared to 22 percent a year ago. About 8 percent of the acreage was shedding compared to 6 percent last year and 10 percent average.

Rice was in fair to good condition with 95-percent of the crop headed, the same as last year and ahead of the 92 percent average. Forty-six percent of the crop was mature compared to 40 percent last year. Harvesting advanced to 14 percent completion compared to 11 percent a year ago.

Corn conditions deteriorated to mostly poor with 93 percent of the crop mature compared to 82 percent last year. Approximately 23 percent of the acreage was harvested compared to 18 percent a year ago and 18 percent average. Corn for silage was 94 percent harvested compared to 88 percent in 1979.

Sorghum was 69 percent ripe compared to 52 percent a year ago. Harvesting moved along with 24 percent of the acreage cut compared to 20 percent last year and 23 percent average. Sorghum for silage was 71 percent harvested compared to 68 percent last year.

Hay was 83 percent harvested compared to 81 percent last year and 78 percent average.

Peanut conditions were mostly poor. Peanuts were in poor to fair condition.

Peanuts were 26 percent harvested compared to 13 percent last year and 29 percent average.

Sweetpotatoes were 17 percent harvested compared to 22 percent 1979 and 25 percent average.

COUNTRY TRADE DAY

Mostly from Tennessee, Alabama and north Mississippi they came in endless procession to Tippah County, Mississippi's "first Monday" trading event - a super flea market that old-timers say was started nearly a century ago. In 1893, in this county seat town of Ripley for farm men to swap horses, mules, dogs or whatever.

Today, nearly a century later, with women welcome, perhaps some rather large changes have been wrought in the manner of swapping, but some of the more intriguing features of this unique monthly bartering event remain essentially the same.

Most rural folk of northeast Mississippi obviously remain high on this tradition for they support these trade days in droves - clogging the traffic in and out of this community not far south of the Tennessee line. The event is kept unpretentious, and as a matter of frequent fact, uncomfortable - perhaps as a matter of tradition, or neglect, or in keeping with senses of value.

Beneath the burning sun of Labor Day last week a constantly changing sea of cars were parked in a mowed area alongside Highway 15 opposite the fairgrounds. Adjacent property owners or operators hawked parking privileges for $1. Inside the market grounds were extensive parking areas, and a network of lanes led bargain seekers or the curious past countless offerings of merchandise defying description.

An area was set aside for farm animals and fowl, which included everything from pens of guinea fowl of varying ages to ostriches reportedly from Yalobusha county. Goats of various colors and even greater varying moods were tethered along the walkways. Chickens, ducks and geese rested or fed in their cages when they were not drowsing. In the shade of trees blue tick hounds were shown off and periodically punctuated the medley of carnival like sounds with soulful baying that under other circumstances could have turned the sunshine into a moon glow.

Helicopter rides were a popular attraction from the south end of the gathering. The dragon-fly like vehicle emptied passengers frequently so others no less eager could experience a spin up and around the city and its bustling southside.

The shoppers paraded - the fat and the lean, the long and short, the eager and impelled - each marching stoically from their parked cars to a midway of vendors. They counter marched back to their cars, one burdened with a mule-powered geewhiz cultivator and a saddle.

Sellers low-keyed involvement with buyers. There was no chanting, no high pressured button-holing. Take it or leave it as it was, new or used, art form or practical gadgetry. Some - outmoded, unusable junk.

This timeless old flea market was a good place to get shoes dusty without caring, to replace half a dozen bantam hens or a Cornish rooster, get a new handle for a firewood splitter, or socialize with out of daily touch friends.

Relief from the scorching heat wasn't easily come by, but most nevertheless tried.

Farm Bureau queen, talent contest slated

The Farm Bureau Queen and Talent Contest will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 24 at the County Fairgrounds near Waveland.

Woman's Chairwomen for Hancock County Nell Koenenn said all contestants must be a Farm Bureau member.

"There will be junior, senior, intermediate and queen divisions open to contestants," Koenenn reported. All contestants interested in entering may telephone Billy Lyons at 255-1133 or Koenenn at 255-7055.

Winners in the local event will participate in a district contest at Jones Junior College in Ellisville.

Temperatures have slackened off slightly and some areas have received a little rain, but as a rule, the state is still in a serious drought. Without a general rain in the next couple weeks, numerous cattle will have to be liquidated.

Hay crops have been very short this summer and only minimal prospects are in line for this fall. Planting for winter grazing should be under way, but most farmers are waiting for a rain.

Stock ponds are also dangerously low, with some of them dry.

Livestock movement continues to be relatively light and the general condition of the cattle is fairly good. Feeder cattle prices showed a slight increase, while finished cattle in the Great Plains worked lower in sympathy with depressed beef prices.

At the Mississippi Livestock auctions for the week ended Sept. 4, around 12,300 cattle were sold, down 1,900 from the previous week and 3,000 less than a year ago. Slaughter cows were unevenly steady, with Utility 1-3 39.00-47.00, Cutter 1-2 37.50-44.00. Feeder steers and heifers were steady to 2 higher. Medium Frame No. 1 200-300 pound steers 62.00-65.00, a few to 100.00, 300-400 pounds 79.00-85.00, a few to 91.00, 400-500 pounds 72.00-78.00, 500-600 pounds 69.00-74.00, 600-700 pounds 65.00-71.00.

Medium Frame No. one heifers 200-300 pounds 66.00-71.00, a few to 75.00, 300-400 pounds 62.00-68.00, a few to 71.00, 400-500 pounds 60.00-66.00, 500-600 pounds 58.00-65.00.

The Texas Oklahoma Panhandle area moved 50,600 cattle, down 7,900 from the previous and up 4,000 from a year ago. Slaughter steers were .50-1.00 lower, heifers steady. Late sales Good to mostly Choice 2-3 1000-1250 pounds steers 71.00-71.50, heifers 67.50-1000 pounds 68.00-68.50.

The St. Louis hog market had 26,700 head, down 1,800 from the previous week and down 200 from a year ago. Butcher hogs were 1.50-2.50 lower for the week. Late sales U.S. 1-2 220-250 pounds 45.50-46.00, sows were uneven, weights under 500 pounds, 50 cents lower at 40.00-41.50, weights over 400 pounds 2.50-3.00 lower at 41.50-42.50. Boars over 300 pounds 35.50-36.00.

The Tennessee Feeder pig sales had 15,150 compared to 16,200 the previous week. Pigs were 4.00-17.00 per cwt. lower, U.S. 1-2 40-50 pounds 63.50-77.00, 50-60 pounds 51.25-67.00. In the Central U.S. carlot meat trade steer beef was steady to 1.00 lower, Choice three 600-900 pounds 111.00, Choice 3 500-700 pound heifer beef 105.00-105.50. The estimated gross cutout value of Choice 3 600-700 pound boxed beef carcasses for Thursday was 117.42 per cwt., down three cents from a week ago and .81 higher than a year ago.

Slaughter under federal inspection this holiday shortened week included 549,000 cattle, down 103,000 from the previous week and up 15,000 from a year ago. Some 1,502,000 hogs were slaughtered, down 153,000 from the previous week and down 7,000 from a year ago.

Fowl and animals generally had varying degrees of shade and water. The people had cold drinks, water, watermelons or popular food and drink items served at every turn of the concession area. One not-to-be-denied gentleman lay across the seat of his car during mid-day with the motor and air conditioner running. Breezes rippled the dandling leaves of the cottonwoods as waiting helicopter passengers got a good fanning with each landing and take-off of the craft.

This country trade day was believed to be an attendance record-breaker this year as an estimated 50,000 persons filed through Labor Day weekend. The tradition has persisted and grown unbelievably since those 19th century pioneers first gathered in the town square each first Monday to swap horses and dogs. Over the years there has been some protesting outcry from a few merchants who were undersold on first Mondays.

But the patronage continues to increase among both sellers and buyers - and a nearly century old practice continues, not simply because of tradition, but because it still meets the needs and desires of these both town and country people.

A thought for the day from the library of Father Canisius Hayes, Pastor of St. Ann's Parish:

I want to say something to all of you who have become a part of the fabric of my life.

The color & texture which you have brought into my being have become a song, and I want to sing it forever. There is an energy in us which makes things happen when the paths of other persons touch ours and we have to be there and let it happen.

When the time of our particular sunset comes our accomplishments won't really matter a great deal. But the clarity and care with which we have loved others will speak with vitality of the great gift of life we have been for each other.

GCJC dance team preps for season

Delta De La Fuente and members of Gulf Coast Junior College's recently formed dance and precision drill team are getting into shape for the fall semester. They are preparing for their first performance at the college's opening football game.

De La Fuente, choreographer and creative dance instructor at GCJC's Perkinston Campus, said eight months has gone into the planning of the tri-campus group.

"The idea is to bring more unity among the students at the Jackson County, Jefferson Davis, and Perkinston Campuses," she explained. "And also give students at the commuter campuses the opportunity to participate in football and similar activities."

The team director added there will be a maximum of 20 girls on each campus squad with the three squads performing together during football half-time activities. The individual squads will also perform at their respective campus and community events. Members will receive one hour physical education credit. For more information contact De La Fuente at 388-5438.

high school," Turcott reported. The trustee explained the contractor of the junior high school project took away usable fluorescent light fixtures.

"We tried to get fixtures for our new field house but the contractor said he had given them away to the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, etc.," Turcott said.

McCullough replied, "Certainly we must consider this."

Trustee James Ginn asked, "Is this project a priority?"

Turcott stated, "I think it is."

The superintendent explained, "I mentioned the roof, windows and tile to EFC and they thought the windows would have priority."

Ginn suggested, "Why don't we have the 1978 study pulled out and sit down with Wagner and Lagarde."

"Do we want to go ahead with this or a complete renovation program," Ginn stated.

"I think we should review the 1978 study with the architect and see when this project should be done and I'll make this in the form of a motion," Ginn added.

Turcott stated, "I make a motion that the superintendent present a plan for relocation of students by Sept. 29 so portable classrooms at North Bay can be vacated by Oct. 15."

Board President Virginia Gex said after the meeting, students moved out of the portable classrooms would be relocated to classrooms at other Bay schools.

DOCUMENTARY HOSTS—Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward narrate a special hour-long documentary on the powerful street drug PCP, or "angel dust." The program, titled "Angel Death," can be seen at 9 p.m., Wednesday, September 17, on the Mississippi ETV Network. A locally-produced follow-up giving a Mississippi perspective to the alarming abuses of PCP can be seen at 10.

the emergency vehicles." Boudin added, "If the crossing during the exercise has a train across it the emergency vehicle may have to go all the way to Waveland to cross the tracks. We are doing this in case of a real thing. Of course we will not stop the everyday traffic."

J.D. (Big John) Rutherford, who recently took over the chore of resources chairmen for the CD, reported that he had contacted St. Stanislaus and they had offered the use of their 24-bed infirmary and kitchen facilities during a disaster.

Rutherford added, "We are trying to secure funds to obtain a large generator for Stanislaus to use to keep the refrigeration, kitchen and infirmary in operation during a real emergency."

All water wells in the county are being recorded for use in case of a disaster. Their water is being analyzed and updated.

All information during the exercise will go through the information officer.

The derailment will be in the vicinity of Alcan-Cable Company on Central Avenue, Bay St. Louis, according to Dumestre.

Announcement of the exercise will be made through normal response channels.

All communications during the 'train derailment exercise' will proceed with the word 'exercise' and end with 'exercise.'

Boudin reported there are many monitors around and they did not want to get anyone thinking this will be a real thing.

Among those attending the finalization meeting were Boudin; Dumestre, assistant CD operations officer; Bob Gavagnie, training officer of CD and National Guard; Ed Friloux, Search and Rescue and Diamondhead Fire Department; John Rutherford, resources officer; Jay Marsh, communications officer and East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department; Lillie Bermond, acting chief, Bay Police; Harris Boudreaux, Bay police; Theresa James, director of RSVP; and Ronald Peterson, Hancock sheriff.

Also attending were Alvin Ladner, Hancock investigator; John Rester, director of Mobile Medic; Wallace Bradley, welfare office; Eve McDonald, director of senior citizens; Andrew Lizana, Bay fire department; Ron Rose, DuPont safety department transportation of hazardous materials coordinator; John Tracey, DuPont safety superintendent; John Groce, Boy Scouts; Kenny Fayard, Waveland fire department; Donald Dorn, Waveland police chief; Jamie Jacobs, WKGR radio; and Ellis Cuevas, The Sea Coast Echo.

Theosophists slate N.O. film showing

The Theosophical Study Center in New Orleans, 1136 1/2 Esplanade Ave., has issued an invitation to interested Hancock County residents to view showing of a film entitled "Swedenborg: The Man Who Had To Know."

The film will be shown Thursday, Sept. 18 at 7 p.m., according to Ms. Katie Dreher, center secretary, who said an exchange of ideas and reception will follow the film.

Swedenborg, (1688-1772), an 18th century scientist, made breakthroughs in anatomy and brain research, discovered the function of the endocrine glands, invented an aircraft and helped found the sciences of crystallography and metallurgy.

A religious visionary and philosopher, he rediscovered hidden meanings in the Bible, translated the symbols of dreams and visions, experienced Heaven and Hell as extensions of the realities of daily life.

He displayed well-documented clairvoyant powers, and predicted the precise moment of his own death.

This film dramatizes events in his life that most clearly reflect his beliefs, Dreher said.

OYSTERS

One of nature's richest sources of iron is the succulent oyster. Oysters are also high in other minerals, contain most of the essential vitamins and supply protein.

Eastern oysters found along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts can be marketed live in the shell, fresh and frozen shucked, frozen breaded and canned. Oysters must be alive when purchased in the shell, which is indicated by shells that close tightly when handled.

Live oysters are sold by the dozen or by the bag, which contains about one bushel. Live oysters will remain live from seven to ten days if stored uniced in the refrigerator at 35 degrees F to 40 degrees F. Shucked oysters are graded and sold by size, usually in pints or gallons. The largest shucked oysters are marketed as selects, the average size as standards.

Fresh shucked oysters are plump and have a natural creamy color and clear liquid. If properly handled and packed in ice in the refrigerator, freshly shucked oysters will maintain quality for about a week. Oysters lose considerable quality in home freezing and should be used in casseroles or fried when thawed.

Home freezing is not recommended, but commercially frozen oysters are fine. The difference is quick freezing, which is not possible with a home freezer. If freezing is necessary, freshly shucked oysters can be frozen in the commercially packed can in which they are purchased or frozen in their own liquor in a container which has little remaining airspace when sealed. Use frozen oysters within two months, sooner if possible. Cooked oysters should never be home frozen.

Thawing in the refrigerator or in an airtight container under cold running water is acceptable. Once thawed, oysters should never be refrozen.

When you are purchasing oysters live in the shell, buy three dozen to feed six people. One pint of shucked oysters yields six servings. Some oyster lovers will eat more when the oysters are fried or served on the half shell.

To shuck oysters, use cotton gloves and an oyster knife. An oyster knife is a heavy piece of metal with wedge-shaped blade and handle in one piece. It is designed to withstand the pressure required to open oysters. Never use a sharp knife.

Rinse the oyster thoroughly. The cleanest way to open oysters is to grasp the oyster securely by the thin end of "bill" leaving the hinge insert the oyster knife in this crevice, and twist the knife while pushing it firmly into the opening. Once the hinge is broken, before pulling the shell apart, slide the knife along the inside of the top shell and cut the adductor muscle loose from the shell.

Remove the top shell and again slip the knife under the oyster, being careful not to mutilate the oyster. Cut the muscle away from the bottom shell. Remove any remaining shell particles attached to the oyster. Most oysters, except the largest, can be opened by this method.

For larger oysters, break part of the shell on the thin end with a hammer to make an opening. Insert the knife in the opening and slide along the inside of top shell to cut adductor muscle and then cut oyster away from remaining shell. This method leaves more shell particles on the oyster. Be careful not to mutilate the oyster.

Oysters are easy to prepare, entirely edible, are delicious raw or cooked. To retain the delicate, distinctive flavor of oysters, cook only long enough to heat thoroughly and maintain their natural plumpness and tender quality.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE—Juan Betanzos' PAT is blocked by Pat Bryant as the Rebels come up with a big play to end the St. Stanislaus' point parade. Although Juan missed this extra point attempt, he and holder Marc Mayer earlier sent three thru the uprights. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

Rocks roll over Riverdale

By RANDY PONDER

NEW ORLEANS—The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, led by junior quarterback Joe Gex, handled the Riverdale

Rebels with ease on their way to a 27-6 opening game victory at East Jefferson Stadium in New Orleans Saturday night.

The Rock-A-Chaws took the lead on the very first play of the game as half back Sean Logan took the opening kick off on his 15 yard line and raced 85 yards for the first St. Stanislaus score. Juan Betanzos added the point after touchdown and the Rocks were up by 7 with only twelve seconds gone from the clock.

St. Stanislaus head coach Barry Jones stated following the game, "I am extremely pleased with the way the team performed. We had several turnovers, but I feel that field conditions were at least partially responsible."

The Rock-A-Chaws second touchdown came with 3:36 left in the first quarter. St. Stanislaus took possession of the ball on their 29 following a three yard punt by Riverdale. Quarter back Joe Gex got things moving with a 14 yard burst off tackle, fighting off several would be tacklers. Full back Mike Hourin took Gex's hand off and galloped 55 yards to paydirt. Betanzos was successful with the PAT, giving the visiting Rocks a 14-0 advantage.

Another excellent scoring opportunity went by the boards as the Riverdale defense stiffened with the Rocks knocking on the door.

Following a bad punt by the Rebels, St. Stanislaus moved to a first and ten on Riverdale's 19. The next series of downs netted a minus 5 yards and a 40 yard field goal attempt was wide of the mark.

The kicking game played a major part of this game. St. Stanislaus scored on the opening kick off and again following a bad punt by Riverdale. The Rebels lone score came after a bad punt by the Rock-A-Chaws.

Facing fourth and forty five after their worse series of downs, the Rocks prepared to punt from the St. Stanislaus 40. Punter Pat Kergosien was forced to handle a bad snap from center and was rushed to get the ball away. The kick sent the ball straight up and then it bounced backwards.

Pat picked up his own punt and turned up field with the ball. The Rebels stopped him on the Rock's 32, for a loss of eight yards on the punt.

Earlier in the game, a bad snap from center resulted in a turn over in a similar situation.

With good field position for about the first time in the game, Riverdale was able to connect on a touchdown pass from quarterback Ernie Baldwin to Barnell Tatum. The PAT was mishandled in the mud in front of the goal posts.

This is the first year Riverdale has had a football team. Prior to this year it was an all girl school. Following a court order, Riverdale went co-ed this school term. However, all seniors were allowed to finish at the school they had originally gone to. Accordingly there are no seniors on the football team.

The second half of play began almost as ominously as the first for Riverdale. After receiving the kick, the Rebels lost a fumble on the 15. St. Stanislaus scored two plays later on a Gex to Logan handoff. The PAT made it 21-

Quarterback Joe Gex chucked up the Rock's final score with a four yard scamper up the middle with 49 seconds left in the game. The PAT was blocked by Pat Bryant of the Rebels. The Final Score was 27-6 in a one sided game.

St. Stanislaus outgained Riverdale 254 yards to 73 on the ground. Leading rushers for the Rocks were, Sean Logan with 163 yards, Mike Hourin with 76, and Joe Gex with 62.

The Rock-A-Chaws will entertain Pearl River Central in their next contest Friday night at St. Stanislaus' home field. Game time is 7:30.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1980-1B

Morans take two wins at Oak Downs Sunday

(Special to the Sea Coast Echo)

PEARL RIVER, La. - Two Hancock County horses were victorious Sunday in races at Oak Downs. And, as usual, it was the Moran family visiting the winner's circle.

Pete Moran's Miss Hootsville claimed a half-length victory over Liberation in the 5/16-mile second race in a time of 1:10. Moran owns and trains Miss Hootsville.

Clyde Moran, who like his brother Pete resides in the Catahoula area, saw his Donna Falana win the 400-yard 10th race against Super Splash. Winning margin was two lengths as Donna Falana was clocked in 21 seconds.

Two jockeys took spills Sunday on the 14-race program which saw half of the races decided by two lengths or less with the closest being a head victory by Splashy Lightning over Roman Doctor in the 400-yard 11th.

Ray Robbins of Moss Point, Miss., was the first jockey to hit the dirt when in the 300-yard third race his mount Truvy's Shadow was bumped and flipped in front of the grandstand.

The horse apparently rolled over Robbins, who was taken to Sidel Memorial Hospital where X-rays showed no broken bones. But Robbins was transferred to a hospital in Mississippi for further examination.

Winner in the third race was Disco Joe. Betsy Goal finished second but was placed third for fouling Miss Fiber Test, who bumped into Robbins' mount.

JoAnn Boatwright of Cantonment, Fla., Oak Downs' second-leading jockey, was thrown to the track as her mount in the 350-yard sixth race, Rabbit, began bucking 50 yards out of the starting gate. After throwing the jockey, Rabbit jumped the inside rail. Omega Diana was the winner in a non-pressed time of 19.8 seconds.

JoAnn was taken to Sidel Memorial but there were no broken bones, according to X-rays.

Sunday's results:
1) 300 yards, Miss Tablica Bars, 16.8, Gerald Averett, owner and trainer; Ray Robbins, jockey, J.R., second.

2) 5/16 mile, Miss Hootsville, 1:10, Peter Moran, owner and trainer; Mark Necaise, jockey. Liberation, second.

3) 300 yards, Disco Joe, 17.0, Wilmer Richardson, owner and trainer; Bruce Barnes, jockey. Miss Fiber Test, second. Betsy Goal, ran second but was placed third for fouling Miss Fiber Test.

Truvy's Shadow lost jockey Ray Robbins when horse flipped in front of grandstand.

4) 300 yards, The Rat, 17.0, Patsy Mitchell, owner; Joanne Fay Ladner, trainer; Marty Comfort, jockey. Miss Rattler Star, second.

5) 300 yards, Bart's Top Charge, 16.5, Jim Lott, owner; Herbert Black, trainer; JoAnn Boatwright, jockey. Fancy Trophy, second.

6) 350 yards, Omega Diana, 19.8, John Paul Amacker, owner and trainer; Jeff Peterman, jockey. Rabbit, second.

7) 250 yards, Nick, 15.3, B.L. Thomas, owner; John Bars, no time recorded, Paul Amacker, trainer; James Rohner, owner and Stephone Spurlock, jockey. Miss Home Breaker, second.

Nelson shines in Wildcat's opening win over Trojans

Tailback Denist Nelson, Hancock North Central graduate, picked up 51 yards on 11 attempts to lead all rushers, including nine Pearl River Junior College backs who carried the ball during the Wildcat's 9-0 victory against Mississippi Delta Trojans to Moorhead last week.

Quarterback Mark Toler completed seven of 13 passes and suffered one interception. Freshman signal caller Lance Larson completed one of three. Tight end John Bissell caught five passes for 26 yards and one touchdown.

Within seconds of the opening kick-off the Pearl River defense was called on to stop the Trojans deep in Wildcat territory. PRC received the kick-off, but on the very first offensive play, quarterback Mark Toler was intercepted and the Delta defensive back returned the ball to the Wildcat 12.

Three plays netted the Trojans only four yards on fourth and six from the eight. Woodrow Duckworth came up with the big play for the Wildcats and the first great threat had passed without costing the PRC team a single point.

Later in the first quarter the Wildcat defense pinned the Trojans back deep to their own goal-line. A bad snap from center sent punter Leslie Mosley out of the end zone and provided the Wildcats with their first score of the 1980 season.

The Trojans kicked off and the PRC Wildcats mounted a brief drive to the Delta 31 before a 15 yard penalty drove the ball back to the Delta 46. Later the Wildcats' Brent Swindoll was forced to punt, however, a high snap collapsed Swindoll's follow through and his kick was blocked and then advanced down to the Pearl River 14.

The Trojans picked up a first at the four and on the next play the Trojans drove to the one-foot line, only to lose six yards on the very next play. On fourth down Delta tried a 25 yard field goal but was wide to the left and again the PRC defense yielded no points.

The 2-0 count remained the same until late in the ballgame. Greg Slade recovered a fumble at the Delta 23 and three plays later

Mark Toler hit John Bissell in the end-zone for the comfortable lead. Bobby Stockstill added the PAT.

"I was really pleased with the way our defense stuck in there when they had to," said J.C. Arban, The Wildcats head coach. "The game could very easily been lost within the first minute of play."

Arban said his offensive unit had to work on moving and better blocking up front, but he did admit the Delta defensive unit was very strong and quick.

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will host the United States Men's Sailing Championship for the Clifford D. Mallory Cup from September 24-27.

Eight crews representing eight geographical areas in the United States will compete for the prestigious and coveted Mallory Cup.

Daniel B. Killeen, Jr. of New Orleans will be the skipper of the crew representing Area D, which includes Mississippi, in the finals.

Since the first race for the Mallory Cup in 1952, this championship has been recognized as one of yachting's most competitive events.

The trophy was presented by the family of Clifford D. Mallory, who was the first president of the North American Yacht Racing Union.

The cup is a handsome silver soup tureen, which was originally presented to the family of Admiral Lord Nelson by Sultan Selim III as an expression of his appreciation for the victory of the British fleet over the French at the Battle of the Nile.

Mackie Dedeaux sparks Perk's ground attack

Southwest is expected to unlimber its big gun when the Bears from Summit play Gulf Coast Junior College at Perkinston Saturday night. Kickoff is at 7:30 in A.L. May Memorial Stadium.

"The big gun," explains Bulldog Coach George Sekul, "is a quarterback from Louisiana. He goes by the name of the Cajun Cannon and occasionally is called by his given name, Mark Roussell."

At 6-4 and 200 pounds, the Cannon "is a large piece of artillery," says Sekul. "And his favorite target is wide receiver James Banks, last year's leading scorer in the Mississippi Junior College Football Conference."

Southwest last Thursday lost its opener 18-17 to East Mississippi, while the Bulldogs were downing Northwest 33-17 at Senatobia.

"The game Saturday will be our first in South Division competition. Every division game is important and we'll have to play heads-up football to win," Sekul believes.

In their encounter with Northwest the Bulldogs "showed a well-balanced attack, running and throwing the ball well. The defense was solid and didn't give up any long-gainers," Sekul revealed.

Leading ground gainer for Gulf Coast was Mackie Dedeaux. The 6-0, 205-pound running back from Pass Christian carried the ball 11 times for 102 yards and two touchdowns.

Veteran quarterback Gordon Fryogle of Lucedale tossed two scoring passes. One was a 43-yarder to wide receiver Aubrey Matthews. The other was to running back Sherman Robinson, good for 10 yards. Both are from Moss Point.

Leading the defense was Arnold Seymour, tackle from Hollywood, Fla. He was credited with three quarterback sacks.

Sekul said there were no injuries and that he plans no changes in starting lineups. They are:

Offense — Allan Picard, Biloxi, 6-2, 210, quick end; Mike Murphy, Harrison Central, 6-1, 215, left tackle; Jeff Smith, George County, 6-3, 225, left guard; Joey Rouse, Stone, 6-3, 222, center; Donald Smith, Gulfport, 6-10, 255, right guard; Danny Bellew, Harrison Central, 6-3, 245, right tackle; Lonnie Jenkins, Pass Christian, 5-11, 197, strong end; Fryogle and Woodson, quarterbacks; Sherman Robinson, Moss Point, 5-9, 170, left running back; Dedeaux; and Howard Galloway, Ocean Springs, 5-9, 150, flanker.

Defense — Lennie Steiner, Theodore, Ala., 6-0, 195, linebacker; Olan Gunter, Biloxi, 6-2, 252, left end; Randy Sentell, Notre Dame, 6-1, 254, left tackle; Paul Corley, Ocean Springs, 6-0, 215, linebacker; Arnold Seymour, Hollywood, Fla., 6-1, 262, right tackle; Walter Ballard, Pascagoula, 6-3, 219, right end; Jerome Taylor, Pascagoula, 6-02, 185, linebacker; Keith Warren, Gulfport, 5-10, 165, left corner back; Dixie Hollis, Biloxi, 5-8, 170, strong safety; Steve Bodin, 6-0, 165, free safety; and Earl Davis, Pascagoula, 5-10, 160, right corner back. Punter is Doug Crane, freshman, of Live Oak.

Bulldogs plan special events for Starkville opener Saturday

An old-fashioned barbecue or a Hawaiian luau will be offered to persons coming to the Mississippi State University campus Sept. 13 for the first home football game and High School-Junior College Day activities.

The Union Program Council is again offering pre-game meals both for those in a rush and others with more time on their hands.

Serving time for each will be 11 a.m. - 1 p.m.

If time is of the essence, the UPC suggests a barbecue sandwich plate, which will include baked beans, potato chips and a soft drink. The barbecue will take place on the Pedestrian Mall between the Union and Post Office.

Ole Miss slates cable TV replays

University of Mississippi football will be available to over 3,000,000 households in 26 states this fall when the Rebels join the cable TV satellite system Video Sports Network (VSN).

Ole Miss and Auburn University are the first two southern schools to join regular programming through a satellite network.

The VSN will telecast replays of each Saturday's Ole Miss game the following Wednesday at 6:30 p.m., according to Bill Cooke, president of VSN.

Thirty cable systems throughout Mississippi will carry the game replays. Viewers should check with local cable systems for channel information, Cooke said.

More than 4,200 cable systems in the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, will be able to receive Ole Miss football games as they are transmitted through the Satcom I satellite.

"Ole Miss is extremely excited about the prospects of our association with VSN," said Ralph Carpenter, assistant athletic director and sports information director.

"This new venture will give additional exposure to the Rebel program and should bring a lot of excitement to sports fans throughout the nation," he added.

An added feature of using the VSN system is the capability of slow motion and instant replay, according to Ty Warren, director of the Communication and Resource Center, which will be producing the games in association with the Ole Miss athletic department and VSN.

In addition to game replays, each program will feature a segment on the University's academic community.

Rock-A-Chaws

By RANDY PONDER

After winning their first game of the season 27-6 over a weak Riverdale Club, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws face their first real test Friday night against a tough Pearl River Central Squad.

"Pearl River has the best team they had in years," commented Rock-A-Chaws head coach Barry Jones. "They run out of the wishbone formation, and are big and tough defensively. They average about 200 lbs. on the line."

The Rock-A-Chaws after playing a Saturday night game, have had a short work week.

"It makes it real hard to prepare for Friday's game, - the team is still stiff and sore from the Riverdale game. We haven't been able to make good contact in practice," Jones added.

In Saturday's game against the Rebels, St. Stanislaus moved the ball almost at will on the ground. "We hope to be able to run against Pearl River," Jones said.

"However, if they stop our running game, we'll go to the air. We'll take whatever they give us and try not to beat ourselves."

MERCURIZER OUTBOARD CONSULTANT

FIBERGLASS GEL COAT

"Gel coat" is the outermost layer of resin in a boat's fiberglass laminate.

It contains pigment which gives the boat its shiny, glossy color.

The term derives from the fact that soon after being sprayed onto the polished surface of a mold, gel coat does in fact gel, or solidify.

Next, several layers of glass fabric and resin are applied to build up the hull's laminate.

The smoothness of the mold is imparted to the gel coat, so that new hulls and decks come out of molds needing only a little cleaning and buffing to glow brightly.

Gel coat averages about fifteen thousandths of an inch thick, explain the MerCruiser stern drive boating experts.

If too thin, it may not have a good, rich color or normal durability.

If too thick, it can eventually "craze," or become covered with hairline cracks.

Gel coat is made by mixing pigment into a clear resin that is formulated to be tough, abrasion resistant and weather resistant.

Since it is a mixture of clear resin and pigment, it is not opaque like wood or metal. Light can filter through it. This is perfectly normal and nothing to be alarmed about.

A good waxing once or twice a year prolongs the luster of gel coat by shutting out the air's oxygen.

It slows down the oxidation of the resin at the weather surface.

Don't use cleaners that might contain harsh abrasives. They will scratch and dull the surface of gel coat.

BOATS FOR SMALL MOTORS

Fishermen and others find smaller outboard motors and boats to be well suited to their needs.

Portability, economy, ease of handling, and simplicity of operation and maintenance are among their advantages.

Small boats come in so many types and sizes that it's hard to give pat advice on choosing a good boat for a particular small motor.

A good starting point, though, is the load and horsepower capacity plate affixed to every new boat.

According to the Mercury outboard boating experts, there is no direct, obvious relationship between hull length and power needed.

A four-horsepower outboard can serve equally well on a 12-foot utility boat and an 18-foot canoe, for example.

Stability, fore-and-aft balance, load distribution, steering and handling qualities and various other factors enter into selecting suitable power for a boat.

Such things are taken into account when manufacturers determine maximum recommended power to go on capacity plates.

Sometimes small boats perform better with two persons aboard than with one. When all weight is in the stern, a small boat will float bow-high, stern-down, and have a lot of drag that will hinder getting onto plane.

But a passenger up forward will hold the bow down and the boat may plane out more readily due to less drag, despite greater weight.

Between the capacity plate figures, the recommendations of an experienced dealer, and perhaps a few trial runs, you can choose a small motor and boat combination that will give you good results.

Wildcat season tickets on sale

Season football tickets for the 1980 Pearl River Junior College season are now on sale.

J.C. Arban, PRJC's athletic director and head football coach, announced the reserved season tickets for five home games are available to the public at a cost of $15.

The Wildcats will open its home schedule with Jones on September 13 and this will be the only encounter within the confines of Doble Holden Stadium during that month.

Three of the four games planned for October, however, will be played on campus in Poplarville, Arban said.

East Central will visit Oct. 4 and the Holmes Bulldogs will make their way down Oct. 18.

PRC's homecoming activities are set for Oct. 25 against the Southwest Bears.

The last regularly scheduled home game is the final game of the season for the Wildcats against the Northeast Tigers from Boonesville.

Away games for the Wildcats include a Thursday night debut against Mississippi Delta on Sept. 4.

On Sept. 20 the Wildcats will meet Coahoma, for the first time ever, at Clarksdale.

Hinds, also a Thursday night contest, is set at Raymond for Sept. 25. The annual grudge match between the Wildcats and Gulf Coast Bulldogs is set for Pascagoula on Oct. 11.

Pearl River's road season will end against the Co-Lin

Wolves Nov. 1 at Wesson.

"I think we have a fine home schedule," Arban commented, "I think the fans will really get their money's worth this year."

Tickets are available at the PRC business office from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

For mail orders send a $15 check to Season Tickets, Pearl River Junior College Business Office, Station A, Poplarville, Miss., 39470.

King of The Hill Productions schedules all-pro show Oct. 4

King of The Hill Productions will present an all-pro boxing show October 4 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum.

Headlining the show will be a rematch of the heavyweight King of The Hill champion, Raymond White of Gulfport and Walter Dement, the runner-up, of Bossier City, LA.

White, a solid 195 pound knockout artist, defeated Dement in a controversial split decision on August 29 at the Coliseum.

The "Bossier City Battler" stated, "I won the fight going away, and definitely want a rematch."

Dement further stated that he may have lost the first round, but "I knocked White all over the ring the last two rounds and deserved the decision, and the championship."

Claude Byrd, a classy boxer who won the light-heavyweight crown, has agreed to return, and has asked for a worthy opponent.

Byrd, who is from Pascagoula, won the championship by outlasting four opponents in the August tournament.

The card will be a non-stop affair with 16 bouts scheduled in three weight divisions. In addition to the heavyweights and light heavies, a super-heavyweight class has been added for boxers over 210 lbs.

Four entries, all over 240 pounds have agreed to appear, including Fred Bester, a 240-pounder from Gulfport.

Bester went to the semi-finals in the August tourney. All seats will be reserved, and may be purchased at the Coliseum ticket office and all Coliseum ticket outlets.

Brief

FINANCIAL AID

More students than ever are receiving financial aid to help with college costs, according to Sidney Tate, director of financial aid at the University of Mississippi. Tate said more than half of Ole Miss students get some form of financial aid, which includes grants, loans, employment or scholarships. March 1 is the priority date for filing the Financial Aid Form (FAF) with the College Scholarship Service, he reminded. The FAF is used by many colleges to establish eligibility for institution-based financial aid and basic grants. Before filing the FAF, students must submit an application for admission to the university of their choice.

Fur to fly when Wildcats, Bobcats tangle Saturday

It's time once again for the annual 'Cat fight' between Pearl River and Jones Junior Colleges at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Poplarville.

And as usual, the matchup of the Wildcats and Bobcats will shed a lot of light on just how powerful and how far each team will advance in 1980. About the only difference this year is that the contest is scheduled earlier in the season than normally. Still the victor will immediately be pegged the team to beat in the south division of the Mississippi Junior College Conference. Pearl River opened its season last week with a hard-fought 9-0 win over the Mississippi Delta Trojans and Jones shalacked Coahoma 47-8 in its bid for another state title. "They're going to be strong as usual," said J.C. Arban, PRC's head coach. "But, I guess everyone already knows that." "This is going to be a big test for us," Arban said, "and we're really looking forward to playing them."

Arban said even though the Bobcats beat Coahoma 47-8 last Saturday, he still thinks his Wildcats can play with the Jones team. "They're not going to wear us out like they did Coahoma, and I think it will be a battle to the finish."

On offense the Bobcats, the defending state champions, have 10 starters coming back with only a freshman tight end and breaking into the elite lineup. On defense the Bobcats have a freshman defensive end and the rest are also sophomores. Arban said the Bobcats should never have beaten the Wildcats in 1979. With just three seconds on the clock, Brian Dennis kicked a 32-yard field goal to give the Bobcats a heart-stopping 9-7 win. "We should have scored on two other occasions last year, and we could have easily stopped them on their last desperation drive."

Arban contends the outcome of the Saturday night contest in the Dobie Holden Stadium will boil down to just who wants the football game the most. "It will be a hard-hitting and very competitive game," Arban said, "it's a game football lovers should not miss."

A win by either of the cat squads this Saturday in Poplarville would firmly place the victor in control of the south division. Of course, the Gulf Coast Bulldogs will have something to say about any boasts from the PRC or Jones camps.

A vicious and competitive triangle in the south has developed between the schools at Ellisville, Poplarville and Perkinston. The team with the edge after playing the other two is almost certain the ones making plans for the state championship playoff.

The past three years the Jones Bobcats have beaten the PRC Wildcats and Gulf Coast Bulldogs. Consequently, the Bobcats went on to win the south division and two of three state crowns.

In 1976 the Pearl River Wildcats won over the Bobcats and Bulldogs and that enabled the J.C. Arban led Cats to the Mississippi crown. In 1975 Gulf Coast Bulldogs beat the other two and it meant the south division crown for their school.

Pearl River and Jones have met every year since 1948 with the Wildcats winning 19 times and the Bobcats thirteen times. The 13 Jones victories over PRC are more than any other school in the state can boast of since Pearl River has been playing football.

"It should be an outstanding game," said J.C. Arban, PRC's head coach, "the Bobcats are a very solid football team, with a good offense and defense..." PRC, on the other hand, has a very impressive defensive unit and an offensive unit that looks good most of the time.

What all the figures and stats show for the upcoming game is the fact that whichever team makes the fewest number of mistakes will probably claim that all-important advantage.

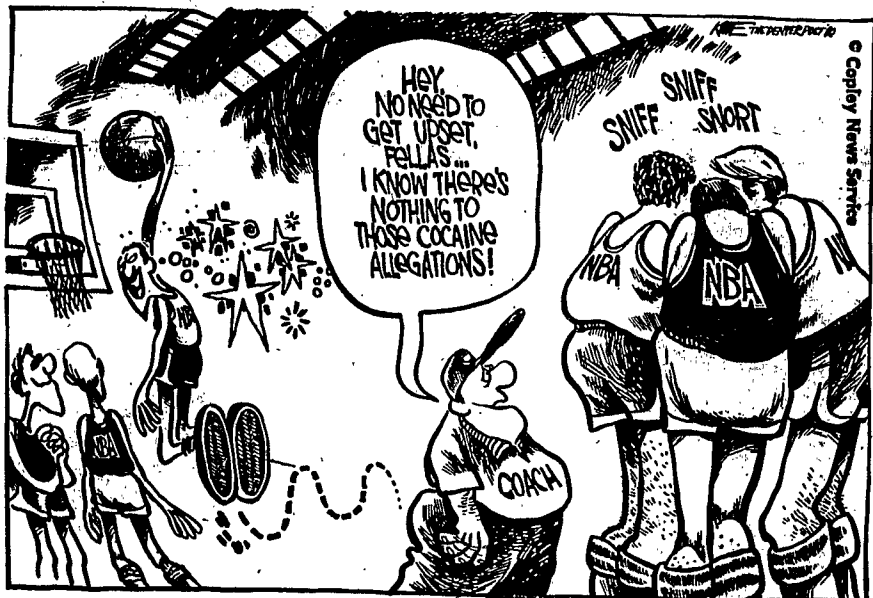

"We must play the best game of the year this Saturday," Arban said, "our fumbles, interceptions and penalties must be omitted."

Football season brings highway patrol warning

Mississippi motorists are cautioned to drive defensively with the expected increase in traffic on all highways during the football season just beginning.

Patrol Chief Donald Butler said state patrol officers are instructed to be "more vigilant than ever" during the fall with high school and collegiate football schedules in full swing.

"We want all football fans to enjoy the season, but we want them to drive safely and obey traffic laws," Buttersaid.

The patrol chief Butler urges drivers to use seat belts, to abide by the 55 national maximum speed limit, to refrain from drinking while driving, and to take frequent rest stops on long trips.

"Before beginning a football weekend trip, drivers should make certain their automobiles have a valid inspection sticker, vehicles are in good shape mechanically, rivers licenses are current, and license plates are valid," Butler suggested.

The state patrol chief said drivers who remain alert and obey the state traffic laws will drastically reduce the chance of being injured or killed in accidents.

BMR says new Bay oyster reef development 'good'

Local conservation agencies are encouraged with the development of oyster reefs in Bay St. Louis and describe the 'spat sets' of the St. Stanislaus and Waveland reefs as 'good.' Mississippi's oyster industry has encountered some hard times in the last few years, but the planting of clam shells to revitalize old reefs and construct new ones appears to be working. The Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach with assistance from the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory planted 71,000 cubic yards of clam shell on eight existing or newly constructed public reefs in Mississippi recently.

Clam shells were carried by barge to locations and blown into the water using high-powered water hoses.

"This shell will provide firm clutch material on which the oyster 'spat' sets and develops. Without this firm bottom the spat could sink in the mud and die," a Mississippi department of wildlife conservation spokesman explained. "Clam shells, as opposed to oyster shells, seem to get more single oyster sets, making the set better and the mature oyster easier to tong and cull. As long as shells are returned to the reefs after harvesting, the areas should remain productive - unless destroyed by predators or adverse environmental conditions," the spokesman noted.

It takes a minimum of two years for new or revitalized reefs to mature, depending on conditions affecting the oysters.

Five reefs have been checked for success of spat set by Ron Herring of the Bureau of Marine Resources and John Cremo of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

The Long Beach and the White House reefs show 'excellent' spat sets, while the St. Stanislaus and Waveland reefs and the reefs between the Bay St. Louis automobile and railroad bridges show 'good' sets.

"This news is very encouraging because the Long Beach and White House reefs were planted only two months ago," the spokesman reported. "Establishment of the reefs is most important before harvesting can begin. Hopefully, based on oyster growth and survival rates, the reefs will be open to public tonging in 1981 or 1982," the spokesman said. Since these areas must remain undisturbed for oysters to become established, it is unlawful to trawl or fish in these areas with other than crab traps or hook and line. The planted areas are marked on each corner with PVC pipe, the top of which is painted fluorescent international orange.

The Bureau of Marine Resources recently began relaying oysters from Biloxi's Back Bay and the Pascagoula River area to designated areas for public tonging.

"Hopefully, these oysters will help relieve some of the strain the oyster industry has been feeling in recent years," BMR officials stated.

The primary deposition site for the Biloxi Bay oysters will be the White House reef.

Bureau personnel will be closely watching the reefs in order to obtain optimum harvest and to prevent any damage to the future productivity of these reefs.

The Bureau has also purchased the equipment to return shell to Mississippi's oyster reefs in order to keep them productive and further provide a substrate for future sets of young oysters.

Luncheon to highlight mental health center's anniversary

The Mental Health Association in Harrison County and the Region II Commission for Mental Health-Mental Retardation are co-sponsoring a luncheon at 12 noon, Sept. 16 in the Biloxi Hilton. The public is invited to attend. The Gulf Coast Mental Health Center is celebrating its tenth Anniversary of service to the community during September. Special guests will be the State Representative Dennis Dollar will be featured speaker. Representative Dollar, who served three years on the center's advisory committee was first elected to the Mississippi House of Representatives at the age of 22.

He has authorized many bills which were passed into law; among them the 18-year-old right to contract law, compulsory school attendance, parental responsibility for juvenile vandalism, rape victims' protection legislation, special license decals for the handicapped, Mississippi's first anti-pornography law and legalization of gasoline production. Luncheon reservations are available by calling the Mental Health Association at 864-6274 by 4 p.m., Sept. 12.

Russell rules commission abiding Social Security Act

U.S. District Court Judge Dan M. Russell Jr. ruled the administrative procedures provided by the Unemployment Compensation Division of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission clearly satisfy the due process requirements of the 14th and 15th amendments to the U.S. Constitution and in no way violate the Social Security Act.

Russell further ruled it is the duty of the claimant to know and understand the eligibility requirements of the unemployment compensation program.

Russell's August 28 decision followed a 1977 class action suit brought against the U.S. Department of Labor and five former officials of the commission.

'benefit rights' interview and an informational booklet which each claimant is responsible for reading and knowing," Ross stated.

Claimants can thus be presumed to have been given fair notice that the question of eligibility for benefits is an issue for as long as they continue to claim benefits, according to Russell's ruling.

The judge further stated that to require a full evidentiary hearing prior to the termination of unemployment benefits would place an immediate case load burden on the unemployment compensation system, making it necessary to hire additional staff.

Russell noted that the MESC eligibility review procedures include an interview affording a claimant the opportunity to correct, add to, and explain any facts related to his eligibility for benefits for the week or weeks in question. Russell concluded that this procedure is fair and, where the disqualifying information comes from the claimant himself, it is highly reliable.

Senior Citizens Program Director

HONOR VOLUNTEERS
The senior citizens of the Recreation and Day Care Programs honored the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, city inspectors and Bill Johnson for the assistance they give our programs, participants and the city.

Under the leadership of Chief Andrew Lizana, the fire department has provided emergency first aid to several of our seniors at the center. It is a comfort to know they are such good neighbors and are so willing to be called on for this valuable assistance.

The fire department doesn't stop there, they are also our watchmen in the building at night and on weekends; they assist when our buses are having trouble; during hurricane and disaster times they help set up cots for us and help in our Red Cross shelter; if our kilns have to be left on at night they check to make sure the automatic timer turns off.

We know they are our friends, and we would like to be theirs.

We couldn't do without our inspectors Fip Johnson, Henry Prevoux, and Ed Larroux.

Fip has provided us with music since we first opened up here in 1972.

Henry spent many hours drawing plans to get our electricity fixed so we could get our ceramic room reopened. Besides that, any time we have problems he is always so willing to help us. Ed is in there helping us too. These men have provided all our citizens with protection from unscrupulous salesmen who prey on our vulnerable people.

Bill Johnson really has one tough job keeping our building in working order. He gets all of the calls for help when physical things go wrong in the city buildings - among other jobs. With the age of our buildings, you know he is busy.

Bill is always so patient and kind to talk to, he never cuts us short or acts impatient with our problems. We do appreciate this, thanks again Bill.

24. In Memoriam
TERRI KAY ZENGARLING September 12, 1976

The message I have for you, my child, is in my heart and in my smile. There are no words to describe the love I have for you in heaven above.

You're far away yet so very near. It's hard to believe it's been four years. Your memory is clear and shall never fade. I'm thankful for the memories you made.

So as this season turns to fall once more, I'll often think of the smile you wore. And try to answer the question of why did my beautiful daughter have to die.

Sadly missed by Mother, Father Brother, Sisters & Grandmother 9-11-pd

IN LOVING MEMORY of LEROY L. WARD Died September 12, 1976

The years have gone by one by one. Till now they number four. And with each passing year we miss you more and more. Sadly missed by Your wife Clare Daughter Annette and Son Tommy 9-11-pd

Award winning renovator converts gas station to showplace

By EDGAR PEREZ
Mississippi Delta native Barbara Scott, holder of both commercial and residential awards for outstanding restorations in the New Orleans Vieux Carre, has transformed one of the Gulf Coast's earliest gasoline stations into the classiest bar and restaurant in Bay St. Louis.

The structure at the corner of Beach Boulevard and Court Street underwent its original conversion from garage to restaurant circa 1975 as the Little Italy pizza parlor, and then fell into idleness from 1978 to the present.

Scott, a Pass Christian resident for the past few years, has held a lease with option to buy for two years, but was unable to generate funds necessary to make real her dream of a Bay St. Louis gathering place centered around the arts, music and theater.

"We looked everywhere for the money, but there just wasn't anyone interested in this kind of a loan," Scott explained.

"The only way I finally was able to manage it in the current economic climate was through a Small Business Administration loan of money earmarked specifically for women in business," she pointed out.

"We simply could not have done it without that kind of support," Scott added.

Scott encountered several other setbacks even after the project was underway, but an opening night party was finally staged Aug. 23, complete with Dixieland band, a local trio and an avant garde collection of guests who motored in from New Orleans and Pensacola as well as several Gulf Coast towns in between.

Friday of this week will mark the beginning of food service at the establishment, aptly named 'Rather Southern.'

Scott said the menu will be styled somewhat on the order of that of 'The Fatted Calf' on St. Peter Street in New Orleans across from Pat Obrien's, which features a variety of exotic hamburgers

The commission also cited the one-time political aspirant for residential restoration at 509-511 Burgundy St.

In addition, Scott restored and operated a hotel in Eureka Springs, Ark. which achieved the status of listing on the National Register of Historical Places.

"We hope Rather Southern will become a center of the artistic energies on the Coast," Scott said.

"We are collecting works of southern artists, and are already displaying in our collection such names as Molly Daughtry of Atlanta, Joe Head of Galveston, Roland Golden, Sister Gertrude Morgan and Renee Haro, all of New Orleans."

"We plan to take a portion of what we make and invest it in

of the Mississippi Sound," Scott explained.

"When we moved from Eureka Springs, we traveled across the entire U.S. Gulf Coast and we feel this is the most beautiful spot in those five states for a lot of reasons," Scott stated.

Collaborating with Scott on the restoration of the old gas station which is believed to have been constructed around 1910 is Beverly Overton, also of Pass Christian. She is a native of Montgomery, Ala. and has spent the past few years involved in commercial and residential restorations.

Rather Southern features 10 ceiling fans and floor to ceiling windows throughout. Overton noted the 1890's concept bar was built from scratch at the location.

"Many people who don't know the history of this

One of Coast's first gas stations, evolved into pizza parlor, is now chic nite spot with names such as 'Romanoff,' 'Fanny Hill,' and 'Turnabout.'

"We have also incorporated an oyster bar in the main bar and we're going to feature oysters at 25 cents apiece. That way, you can eat as many as you like or as few as just one," she noted.

Restoration of the building housing The Fatted Calf brought Scott her outstanding commercial restoration award from the Vieux Carre Commission.

art and art shows in the restaurant," she added.

"And we also hope to bring in authentic Mississippi Delta blues music," Scott added with obvious delight over the idea.

"Another reason we feel Rather Southern will be important to this area is because it is a place where local people can bring guests from out of town without having to explain the beauty of this coast—it's quite obvious from here where we have an unobstructed view building when they walk in here think we have redone an already existing old night club," Overton pointed out. Rather Southern sits directly adjacent to Louisville and Nashville Railroad tracks over which some 20 100-car freight trains pass every 24 hours.

In an effort to turn a definite drawback to a leisurely meal and alleviate the annoyance of the passing trains, Scott is offering drinks at the bar for half-price while trains are passing. "Since I've moved to Pass Christian, this is the first time I've lived in Mississippi in 22 years, and I'm really excited to be back," said Scott, a former Millsaps student and Newcomb graduate. She ran for state representative in New Orleans in a 1969-1970 election, capturing 47 percent of the vote as a Republican candidate. Scott lives on Scenic Drive with sons Shaun, 16; Mace, 14, and Judson, 12.

The above figures are not to be construed to be the exact volume marked.

Each bidder is expected to make his own cruise and to bid accordingly. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale and the submission of bids should be obtained from the Hancock County Superintendent of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, or the District Forester, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Wiggins, Mississippi. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

This is a simple row thinning of a pine plantation. Every third row is designated to be sold and removed. At a minimum, every 5th tree in a row that is to be removed was marked with a good spot of orange paint.

Proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, money order, or bid bond in the amount of five percent (5 percent) of the maximum total of the proposal, made payable to the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. If a bid bond is used, it shall be signed or counter-signed by a Mississippi agent of a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in the State, as required by law. Cash or uncertified checks shall not be accepted, and if attached, shall disqualify the bid.

All timber will be paid for when the timber contract is signed. The successful bidder must deposit with the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, ten percent (10 percent) of the total bid to guarantee the faithful performance of each and every article of the timber sale contract. Upon written notice of completion of the contract in full by the Buyer, the Seller will return the performance bond in full, less any money withheld as damages by the Seller.

A sample contract for the sale of the timber is attached. Should a prospective buyer wish to vary this contract, it is requested that he appear in writing ten days prior to the opening of bids. If no changes are requested, contracts will be filled out and forwarded to the successful bidder for execution and payment of funds within ten days after award is made.

Bids should be addressed to the Hancock County Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. The envelope should be clearly marked to indicate that it contains a bid for timber.

The timber may be inspected at any time.

Detailed data sheets showing how the volumes are calculated by species, number of trees in each two-inch diameter class, number of foot logs per tree, and volumes are attached.

The contract will be for a period of 12 months from the date of signing, and will provide for 6 months extension by mutual agreement of the Seller and Buyer, in case inclement weather should disrupt logging for an appreciable length of time.

The Mississippi Forestry Commission does hereby fix $908.00 as the minimum acceptable price for the designated timber.
